

Have You Seen?

The beautiful native garden at the entrance to Potters Hill Reserve?

Council put in a low mud stone wall and Aunty Kris Schaffer, who conducted the smoke ceremony (see last issue), donated her time, expertise and energy.

Kris procured two large trays of Tasmanian endemic plants (paid for by Council) specific to our area and organised their planting.

The plants are varied, colourful and interesting. Some are considered bush tucker and all will provide seed for us to scatter on the Reserve.

We also have two more trays to plant around the labyrinth soon

Thank you Aunty Kris and Clarence Council!

A New Era

Sadly, the Oakdale Mailhouse has fallen victim to the consequences of the COVID-19 restrictions, with the board taking the decision to close the mailhouse indefinitely. The South Arm News has been assembled and folded by the staff at Oakdale since 2006!

We are sad to see the mailhouse come to an end, and our thoughts and thankyou's are with the staff that received authentic work opportunities in the mailhouse.

The last 2 editions of South Arm News have been assembled and folded by a hardworking (appropriately distanced) group of volunteers. Thankyou so much to the volunteers - without you, we wouldn't have been able to keep up with the news and history of the Peninsula.

Feel like a bit of socially distanced chatty gardening?

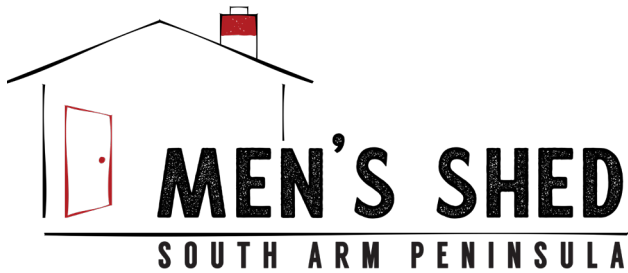

The Iron Plot at the Community Centre off Calverton Place in South Arm has a relaxed theme and is open to all. We meet each Friday 10 - 11am winter time and experiment with plants and garden ideas. Come and join us.

- Rae Calvert

A little history -

Convicts in South Arm

James Hatherall, a labourer from Bath was only twenty when he was sentenced to life and was transported to Van Diemen's Land in 1834 for Highway Robbery alongside his older brother William, a skilled painter and glazier. James was described as a man of bad character and stood 5 foot 4 inches tall. His behaviour must have improved as he was recorded as being a diligent scholar. In November 1837 he received 36 lashes for brutally ill-treating a calf belonging to his master. The calf subsequently died and James was ordered not to be let out for service. By 1842 his prospects improved and James was allowed a ticket of leave and within 4 months was given a conditional pardon as a reward for his praiseworthy conduct in endeavouring to save the life of a person from drowning. At the time James was in service to Harbour Master, James Kelly. Now a hero, the convict James was rewarded for his actions with a position of paid employment as a farm labourer and Whaleboat man. James' job as a fisherman is probably what brought him to live at South Arm as he was recorded as a resident with his wife Ann Martin (sources - the electoral, valuation and jury rolls between 1856-61).

Though James and Ann were considered free settlers when they came to South Arm, both had arrived in Van Diemen's Land as convicts. Ann Martin was sentenced to seven years for Assault and Robbery. She arrived from Scotland in 1838 aged just 21, a housemaid and nursemaid who could wash and iron. Ann's record refers to frequent absconding, disorderly conduct and once taking her master's child without leave. In the first 15 months Ann had been before the magistrates on ten charges.

Ann Martin married James Hatherall in 1846. It is not known when Ann and James Hatherall first came to South Arm, although it appears that James had purchased a farm around the late 1850's, which seems to be at the eastern end of the Peninsula, which was later to be farmed by John Potter.

The October 28, 1858 edition of the Courier carried a Notice of the upcoming sale by public auction of a property due to default of payments to a William Linday. The property was described as 'situated and being in the Parish of Ralph's Bay in Tasmania, aforesaid containing about three hundred and fifty acres being part of three thousand nine hundred acres of land heretofore granted to George Henry Blake Gellibrand and bounded as follows that is to say on the south west by a line of eight chains and fifty links south easterly along other part of the said three thousand nine hundred acres of land now or lately occupied by Thomas Foreman thence on the south east by Storm Bay to Goat's Bluff thence on the north-east by a log fence extending: north westerly along another part of the said three thousand nine hundred acres of land and lately sold to George Hickling to Collins Springs thence on the north by a continuation of the said log fence extending, westerly to Ralph's Bay and thence along Ralph's Bay aforesaid to the point of commencement'

To be continued.... in the next issue of the South Arm News.

Brown Quail Feature at Arm End Reserve

There is a wide range of birds observed by BirdLife Tasmania members at Arm End Reserve. While the reserve is important for a number of shorebird species - Pacific Golden Plover, Pied Oystercatcher and Sooty Oystercatcher - I think the Brown Quail are perhaps the most fascinating and beautiful of the birds that are regularly seen on a walk. RITE is working to develop a plan to protect and enhance birdlife at Arm End Reserve.

According to BirdLife Tasmania, Brown Quail almost certainly breed at Arm End, but there hasn't been any study of the population size, breeding success or habitat quality.

In late summer, Brown Quail begin to exhibit the characteristic night roosting habits of forming a circle on the ground with tails together and heads pointing out. The exact reason for this behaviour is unknown.

Nests are incubated by both the cock and hen bird, but quail rarely alternate incubation duties. After 22-23 days of incubation, the eggs hatch walnut-sized chicks covered in a natal down, weighing 8 grams.

The peak period for chicks to hatch is late December to early January and chicks are flightless for the first 13 days. At this time it is most important that visitors do what they can to avoid disturbing the chicks by keeping dogs on a leash and not sticking to the walking tracks.

St Barnabas update

On the 21st July, a meeting started formation of the Management Committee and the handover from the St Barnabas Working Group. An interim Management Committee is being led by Terry Roe and includes Wally Lyne, Bill Linton and Damon Thomas (key member of the Working Group), all bringing specific professional expertise. A Church Sub-Committee is being led by parishioners Linda Roe and Rachel Todd.

Other key members of the Working Group – Kirstie Judd, Kerry Scambler, Matt Cody and Paul Davidson – will be supporting the incoming committee. All involved over this momentous and historic journey look forward to the next phase of St Barnabas becoming a community-owned and managed church.

There has been no further communication from the Diocese - not surprising given the impact Covid19 has had on all aspects of life and business, as it has had on our own activities.

Significant funding is now needed for the considerable maintenance and ongoing expenses we will have once community ownership is received. 100% of donations, fundraising and pledges to date have been allocated to the process of purchasing the property. If you could become a regular donor by direct debit, you would like to make a donation for ongoing expenses, or pledge money for the sale process, please contact us.

As things progress, updates will be sent to those on our email list. (If you'd like to join that list, simply let us know, contact details below) and where appropriate, via the SAPRA Facebook page.

SAPRA Update

Whilst we still find ourselves in a changed world, we are incredibly lucky to live in this community, on this beautiful Peninsula and in our island state. (Gotta love a moat!). So many reasons to be thankful, here are some more!

THANK YOU to all those who have joined SAPRA.

It's been heart-warming to see so many membership forms coming in and many with new names. Welcome! A special thank you to those who also added a donation to their membership fees :-)

THANK YOU to our SAPRA Community Volunteers,

continuing to keep in touch with those who might really appreciate a helping hand or smiling hello. Life hasn't finished changing so please remember our team has a network of valuable contacts. If you need help with anything or know someone who might, please contact us. If you are facing challenges and struggling, please call Lifeline for Tasmanians on 1800 98 44 34.

THANK YOU to Hon Jacquie Petrusma MP

for sourcing funding for some new chairs that are easy clean and stackable plus some required internal improvements brought on by Covid19. SAPRA/Community Centre income has been, and will remain, severely impacted by the closure and new regulations so all help is hugely appreciated.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS! Community Library, Pot Luck Op Shop and Maurice Potter History Room.

Thanks to our tireless volunteers, the above are now open Mondays 10am-12noon | Fridays 2-4pm.

Will look at Thursdays and Saturdays come warmer days.

Remember - hand sanitiser, 1.5m physical distancing, visitor logbook – hey, you know the drill!!!

FABULOUS FEEDBACK always makes us happy!

Council complimented our Covid19 Safety Plan and Youth Services enjoyed their School Holiday day at the Centre, particularly in the Community Garden :-)

LOOKING TO GET INVOLVED IN THE COMMUNITY?

SAPRA is involved in a wide range of activities and also offers the chance to bring a community project or idea to life. Nominations will be advertised closer to our AGM but if you'd like to know more in the meantime, please contact me, or any of our committee members, for a chat.

Stay safe folks, we're not out of this yet but doing a damn fine job so far! Cheers!

St Barnabas Church

During the Virus shut down Andrew Lake, our Locum minister, provided us with the option to join in 'on line' worship which kept us in touch with one another.

On 7th June the church was once again open which was a real joy. Since then we have had services every week, continuing weekly at 10am. The congregation is slowly growing. Someone different leads the service each week, making each service unique.

Of course we can always pray on our own, but the sharing and fellowship which happens in church is very special, and we have so much to be thankful for.

If you are a 'lapsed' Christian of any denomination, or would just like to find out more, we would be very happy to meet you.. After all 'we', (the people), are THE church. A church is a building. Here we have a much loved historic building which has been faithfully maintained for nearly 140 years, and needs to be fully utilised. We do thank the many people who have helped to 'Save St Barnabas'.

Operation Christmas Child

Last year, a group of South Arm people packed 87 shoe boxes to send to underprivileged children - some in refugee camps, all in very poor communities. For many this is the only gift they've ever received, or are likely to receive.

This year, due to COVID, we're taking a different approach. If there is anyone who feels they could help by packing a box at home, we would be very grateful to hear from you. It's a good exercise to help a child or grandchild to pack a box for a child their age. It helps them appreciate how very fortunate we are in this country.

If you're interested in helping please ring Jane on 62399244 or 0437132258, or Rachel on 62399706. We can provide a box and show you the details. Thank you, and very best wishes.

Betty's Story

100

Corbetta (Betty) Eliza Coppin nee Calvert turned 100 on 7th June 2020.

The great granddaughter of Christopher Calvert and Hannah Watson. Her parents Roy and Daisy Calvert lived at 'Carinya' Sandford and Betty along with her two sisters and two brothers helped on their orchard located opposite the tennis courts and Sandford Hall. She attended the local Sandford School growing up.

She was a keen sports-woman (like many a Calvert) and learned to play cricket with her brothers. The tennis courts (still there) were constructed from funds raised by Betty and her friends. She enjoyed tennis, but cricket was her first love. "We never trained nor were we coached – we just turned up on Saturday mornings and played."

Betty would ride her bicycle 16 kms to Bellerive on the gravel road where she'd stay overnight with an aunt before catching the ferry across the Derwent and then by tram from the city to Glenorchy where she'd walk to the Royal Showgrounds to play cricket for the Hobart Women's Cricket Club on Saturday mornings.

Betty has very fond memories as a fast bowler wearing a buttoned shirt to the collar and knee long skirts. In those times- modesty was always important. She played in the only Intra-state Women's Cricket Match in 1940, however, World War 11 stopped any further games. Instead Betty took up nursing duties.

At 25, she married Cliff Coppin and settled on the North West Coast where he worked on a cattle station. Later they moved to Hobart and lived in Lenah Valley. Betty worked as a cook for many years at a number of hotels around Hobart.

Betty and Cliff didn't have any children but she says 'it was a good life with no regrets'. Football, as well as cricket are still a large part of her life - barracking for the Hobart Tigers and also for Essendon.

Due to COVID-19 the planned celebrations have been postponed for a while, however she was able to share her June 7 birthday with her two nieces Ann Bayles and Gaile Calvert as well as residents and staff at Barrington Lodge. She received numerous phone calls, flowers and gifts as well as congratulations from the Queen, Prime Minister and Governor General.
