

South Arm History Room Officially Opened by Clarence Mayor

In early October, Mayor Doug Chipman was joined by over 70 guests at a lovely celebration at the South Arm Community Centre to recognise the work of local historian, Maurice Potter.

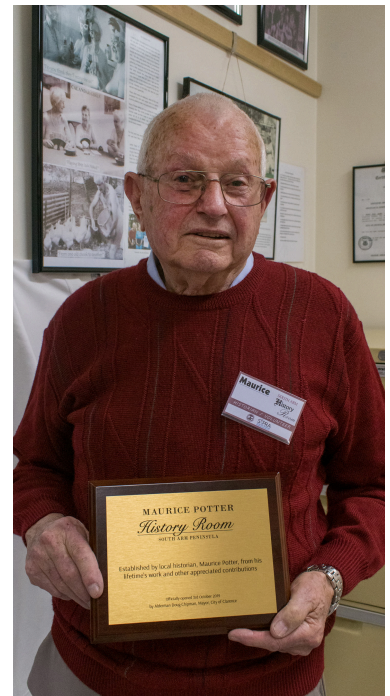

The comprehensive display is entirely Maurice's work who, until presented with the plaque, was totally unaware the room was to be named in his honour! Maurice thanked his fellow historians and researchers, including Lindsay Calvert, as well as local residents for their invaluable assistance and has paid tribute to the late Ted Bezzant for inspiration and guidance.

What began as an offer to "hang some old photos" has developed into a fascinating insight into our history and characters from the mid-1800s including the Calvert, Musk and Alomes families and convicts, through to more recent times including the renowned Calendar Girls, ANZAC Days, community achievements and other activities.

Whether you're a new resident or long-term local, we hope this Room and the Centre, will show where your community has come from, its people, its resilience and sense of place. After all, our history is our stories and these bring us all together. History isn't just 'old stuff', it's the people and places that were, and still are, the fabric of our community. The images are also wonderful conversations starters – from the early cottages to a certain marine vessel balanced on a rock nearby!

Men's Shed Update #3

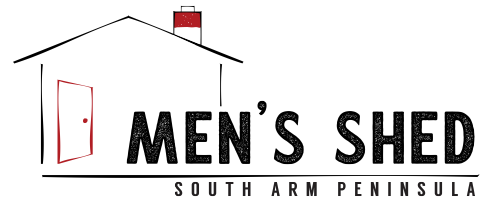

The steering committee met on 21 November to finalise plans for a management committee and set up an incorporated association. A draft constitution, committee structure, membership and other requirements will be now be presented at a general meeting to be ratified.

We'd like to thank the Claremont and Howrah Men's Sheds for their wonderful assistance and also Channel Men's Shed for hosting a group visit.

Shed quotes have been gathered and are being analysed and site discussions are moving ahead.

Survey forms are still being welcomed as all feedback is important – if you can't find a survey form at the local shops or the South Arm RSL & Community Club, please let us know. We need feedback from everyone who supports the concept regardless of gender and whether or not you'll be using it.

Vale Richard (Dick) Vaughan

SAPRA Committee Member Since 2006.

Our much loved and respected SAPRA Committee Member, Richard Vaughan has passed away - our thoughts go to his family and we know friends and community will wrap them up.

Dick was a dedicated and very active SAPRA Committee member who has left a deep, widespread legacy. We know our next Committee meeting will be tinged with sadness, especially as our Treasurer waits expectantly for his always forthcoming query. We are so glad he saw how much he was appreciated with the unveiling of the Gratitude Chair on Potters Hill, surrounded by family.

Dick was practical, forthright and determined to build relationships, something he was always proud of. One of those was with the Council team and it seemed he only had to think the word "mulch" and it was delivered forthwith!

None of us who have known him will forget him and even if we tried, he made sure we won't with many visually beautiful reminders. The Flowering Gum Avenue, the Labyrinth and rejuvenation of Potters Hill and Opossum Bay Park to name but a few.

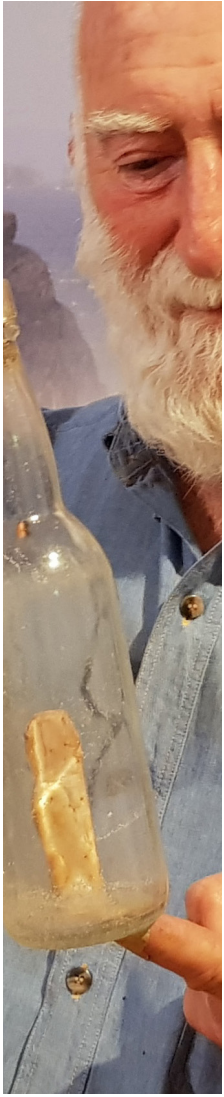

Dick, we'll miss you very much but will carry on as you would have wanted - we know you're with us in spirit.

— Kerry Scambler | President, SAPRA

Message in a Bottle Mystery

It's a glorious South Arm morning. Local artist Salvatore (Sam) D'Aprile is enjoying his regular walk along the beach, collecting driftwood when he spies an intact bottle half buried in the sand. He realises he's discovered something unusual - a message from the past, neatly folded, poked into a bottle then sealed with a cork.

A visit to the Maritime Museum placed the bottle around the early 1900s but sadly, the note was unreadable, even by experts.

Sad, but how intriguing! Who wrote the note? What did its writer want to tell a stranger? We may never know the answers but it's fun to dream of possibilities...

Thanks Sam for sharing this special South Arm story & good luck in solving this mystery!

$1,200 Raised, Thankyou!

Thanks to everyone that came along to our Melbourne Cup luncheon to make it a successful and fun day. The $1200 raised will go to the Raft Fund and more shelving for the Community Centre. Thanks to Andy & Pete for the sweeps, Tracey & her washing up crew, & Therese for being MC. A big thank you to all our prize donors -too many to mention!

Opossum Bay Local Swims English Channel

In August 2019, I become one of the oldest swimmers in history to swim the Channel, at a spritely 63 + 10 months!

The shortest route from England and France might be 30km but strong tides and currents mean it's impossible swim in a straight line. The average time is about 14 hours so I was relatively slow at 15 hours, 38 minutes, over 59km, but plenty take longer.

My swim started at 2am (dictated by tides) with the first 4 hours in the dark. My wife Kerry, sister Laura and coach Chloë McCardel, were a fabulous support crew on my escort boat 'Pathfinder', keeping up warm energy drinks, gels or Sustagen every 30minutes. The water was 17.5 degrees and not once did I think about cold or feel cold.

The first few hours through the night were hard mentally. I developed a sore shoulder and started to obsess the swim would end. At about eight hours Chloë ticked me off and told me to pick it up or things would get grim. I had a talk to myself and forgot the shoulder. The next few hours were steady until at about 10 hours when I was in danger of being swept into the Calais commercial port. I had another self pep-talk and focused on strong strokes, keeping 62 stokes/minute for the last 5 hours. The ignominy of being pulled out petrified me! I made it, landing on a beach near Sangatte, 2km south of Calais. Phew!

Living at Opossum Bay has been a great training as the summer water temperature is very similar to the English Channel. All those laps of South Arm Beach and Glenvar Beach really paid off! I appreciated the dozens of Facebook messages, emails and texts I received and it spurred me on. Thank you.

St Barnabas News

Good News!

We are pleased and relieved to learn that it is the intention of the Anglican Diocese to allow our local community to purchase St Barnabas Church, should sufficient funds be raised (see p8). This will enable our iconic building to remain a place of worship.

Everyone connected with St Barnabas would like to acknowledge, on behalf of the local community, the Anglican Diocese of Tasmania, for it's stewardship of our church over the past 27 years. However, since the consecration in 1892, and until the present time, the church and grounds have been maintained and cared for entirely by the parishioners and community'.

We now look forward to St Barnabas becoming a vibrant and well supported community church into the future, so that the story of our local church, (which began in 1890 when George Gellibrand gifted the land as a site for a church on our Peninsula), can continue.

Christmas Services

All members of the South Arm and Opossum Bay community are warmly welcomed to St Barnabas to celebrate the most special time of Christmas.

Our Christmas services will be:

Carol Service - 22 December at 7pm

Christmas Day Service - 9.00am

Come and celebrate Christmas at your local church. Join the congregation to remember the real meaning of Christmas, and to share the simplicity of the Christmas message.

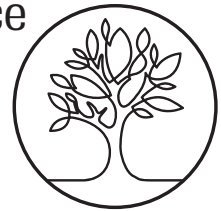

We would like to wish everyone a happy, holy and safe Christmas.

— Jane Beavan | 6239 9244

Fortnightly services continue in 2020 on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month, at 4.00pm. Everyone is welcome!

Fire Permit Period Declared

Tasmania Fire Service

The Tasmania Fire Service declared a Fire Permit period from 31 October 2019 until further notice.

With the threat of summer bushfires fast approaching we should all be working to ensure unwanted fires don't happen and that hazards which can contribute to fire spread are eliminated. Fire can still be used responsibly for land management purposes and other uses such as barbecues, campfires, for heating & for disposal of garden waste.

As a way of managing the use of fire, the Tasmania Fire Service may declare a Fire Permit period when the danger of bushfire is considered high. Other regulators such as the Environmental Protection Authority and local councils may issue directions on the type of materials that can be burnt, avoidance of smoke as a nuisance and the limitation of pollution.

Only the following fuels may be legally burnt:

- Unpainted, untreated and uncontaminated wood
- Vegetation and vegetative waste
- Paper, briquettes and fuel pellets
- Coal, charcoal and peat

The burning of synthetic materials, metal, tyres, paint, plastics, building waste, household waste and anything not mentioned above is an offence against environmental regulations.

People intending to light a fire for burning vegetation or for a similar purpose must obtain a permit. It is an offence not to have obtained a Fire Permit before commencing the burn. Contact the Tasmania Fire Service on 1800 000 699 for information about obtaining a Fire Permit and to register your burn.

Before lighting any fire, regardless if you have a permit, you must consider the weather. Wind speed, wind direction and relative humidity must all be considered. Also, the weather conditions can change while the fire is burning so be very aware of the forecast weather conditions as well.

When the risk of bushfire is considered significant, the Tasmania Fire Service may declare a Total Fire Ban - this will override any Fire Permit already issued.

Always check the Tasmania Fire Service website www.fire.tas.gov.au for advice and information.
