

South Arm Primary School art spectacular

The featured works were created by students from Kindergarten to Year 6 during a series of workshops with practising artist, Jill Farmer, earlier this year.

Jill's vision was brought to life in the Buchanan Hall at the Centre and gave students, families and other community members food-for-thought when it comes to our use of plastics and their potentially devastating impact on the marine environment.

During their workshops with Jill, the theme had resonated with students immediately, particularly given most live so close to the coast, but there was great excitement at seeing the full extent of the project on show.

Jill's hope had been for an immersive experience, which was certainly the case on entering the hall.

Student entries in the annual Young Archie's portraiture competition, examples of still life, pencil drawings and Spring-themed pieces rounded out the exhibition.

Families enjoyed the chance to relax in the garden with a School Association sausage sizzle and raffle, featuring a range of generously-donated art-themed prizes, topping off a great afternoon for the school community.

Stacks of 'bleached coral' and schools of 'bottle fish' suspended under a blanket of torn net and plastic waste adorned the Community Centre as the centrepiece of South Arm Primary School's recent art exhibition.

SAPRA: in your community

Spring is well upon us with bright yellow flowers filling the senses and longer days energising the body. And there's plenty more blooming going on too!

South Arm Primary School Art Exhibition.

How amazing are the students at our local school and their nurturing teachers? SAPRA was delighted to offer the Buchanan Hall at the Centre for their stunning display. Another community partnership that's blossoming!

AGM + General Meeting 7pm, 19 Oct.

You're invited! Come along to hear from SAPRA and range of local groups with updates on their activities over the last year and plans ahead. Committee nominations are now open with forms available southarm.tas.au/agm-2023/, at the Centre and saprased@southarm.tas.au

Membership:

Why join SAPRA? Your $2/person membership helps us represent you and shows support for SAPRA's many activities, and the Community Centre and its services. (Membership form P10).

The Neck.

SAPRA is working closely with Sarah Lovell MLC, Councillor Bree Hunter and others to ensure action is taken following the horrendous flooding conditions of 31 July. The Minister for Infrastructure's response to Sarah Lovell in August was very disappointing, angering many of us with its apparent lack of knowledge of the area. The State Government will receive a detailed document providing a far more current description of the place, the people, changes and the issues - current and potential.

Our Market.

Wow! What a day - perfect weather, a huge variety of stalls and the traditional welcoming, friendly atmosphere. Thanks Jacqui, Andrew and your Market Musketeers for your hard work and doing yourselves and our community proud.

“Piggies Can Can Can’t”

South Arm has again been at the epicentre of another hugely successful Piggery Productions four show spectacular with ticket sales of around $7,000! For the many who attended, if the assault on your senses has worn off here are some photos to remind you! If you did not attend then this is what you missed!

Piggery would like to acknowledge Kim and staff from South Arm Community Pharmacy and Robert Goyne from Fall Real Estate, Lauderdale for their generous support by providing lucky door prizes over the course of the four shows.

Also, thanks to The Mens Shed South Arm for jumping in and providing the audience with beverages and snacks.

Piggery Productions is a not for profit yearly comedy production supporting our local school.

Storm Bay Salmon Farm Expansion Proposal

The new owners of Petuna – Sealord from NZ and Japan's ex whale hunter, Nissui – are seeking a variation to their existing 273 ha fish farm lease in Storm Bay. They want to include a new area, 7 kms off Clifton Beach, to grow juvenile salmon (smolt) and need to lodge their application by this December.

This is part of industry's plan to double production by 2030, which would see up to 200 pens spread across Storm Bay from Nubeena to Bruny Island. Since each pen can release the equivalent nitrogen pollution as the sewerage of 10,000+ humans, we believe Storm Bay is set to become a septic tank.

A group of Clifton Beach residents has formed Friends of the Bays so concerned residents can have a voice. A series of public information sessions are planned. There is a Facebook and Instagram page where you can keep track of events and get information on the effects of salmon farming. A petition is being prepared and a mass protest is planned for late Spring.

If you care about our environment and lifestyle, Friends of the Bays needs your help. We need sponsors, volunteers to help make banners, distribute petitions and hand out flyers, but most of all we need as many voices as possible to speak up and spread the word.

Say no to Petuna.

South Arm Peninsula Men's Shed

Another milestone achieved!

On Sunday 24th September the Men's Shed was opened for public viewing marking a long awaited milestone and a very exciting time for all involved.

Primarily it is a meeting place for men to share their experiences, skills and problems and benefit from the company of other men. However, the shed will be available for other groups, including women, where the need arises.

Up to the Neck- Speaks Bay

The students from the Cottage School in Bellerive have visited Speaks Bay (the Neck), on the South Arm Peninsula, four times this year to participate in Marine Debris Clean Ups. Earlier in the year it was for Clean Up Australia Day and more recently for Keep Australia Beautiful Week.

Science and sustainability teacher, Lee Cody, a passionate marine debris collector and a member of Tasmania's Team Clean, travels annually to remote South West Tasmania for marine clean ups, inspiring her students to conduct clean ups locally.

Despite their previous efforts, it was disheartening to see that recent westerly storms blew so much plastic into the NE corner. Students, staff and parents then removed 30+ large bags of rubbish - mostly plastic, confectionary wrappers, straws, bottles, chairs and a few tyres. Lots of treasure has also been found including a message in a bottle from around 2002 from an 11yo Lucien! A never ending task! Well done and thanks to all involved.

Coastcare - Connect with Your Community

Whether you're new to Cremorne and its surrounds, have been here for ages, or are somewhere in between, and have ideas for activities we'd love to hear from you. Our working bees are awesome ways to meet people and give back to your community.

We'd love to have new faces and ways on board. We really believe it's important to keep our group vibrant and fresh. So, we need your help by having you join in.

Snake Information Session

Information Snake Day went sss...splendidly on Sunday 10th September. Run by Tas Reptila, the day included both live venomous and non-venomous snakes, first aid lesson in case of a bite, feeding demos and tips and tricks on how to live with snakes in harmony.

Many thanks to the Cremorne Bowls and Community Club for venue space, Pavan Catering, Clarence Council Community Grant funding, and all attendees especially our youth volunteers who we hoped increased their first aid skills.

Quiz Night @ Bowlo Saturday 11 Nov

Glory, fun & prizes! Start thinking about your teams of six. If there are any businesses or locals who would like to donate prizes – coffee, chocolates, vouchers, beer, wine ...or help out on the night, we'd love to hear from you.

The Bee Collective - sharing skill and friendship

The third Bee Queens workshop was held at Calverton Hall on August 19.

Bee Queens is a 12 month women's beekeeping program providing knowledge, friendship and skills - educating women about bees in an encouraging environment, founded by local beekeeper Jenni McLeod.

For this workshop, we heard from the state Apiary Officer, Julie Lupia, and learnt all about diseases that impact bees. In the afternoon we tried our hand at lighting smokers and using hive tools - getting ready for the bee season ahead.

Thanks to Cherie Osborne and the Calverton Hall committee for allowing us to use this beautiful space.

South Arm Op Shop's contribution to International Cricket

Suzanne Betts was enjoying the first session of the Women+ Beekeeping Course at the South Arm Community Centre when she spotted a white jacket on the Op Shop's recent arrivals stand. It was perfect for her husband Martin's upcoming Cricket Umpiring Tour to England.

Martin toured with the Australian Veteran's Team for a month and umpired 16 County Cricket matches in England and Wales plus 3 Internationals known as the 'Silver Ashes'. He was very pleased with his jacket!

Lest We Forget

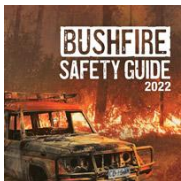

Sandford Scout Joeys practice fire safety

Recently Sandford Volunteers Fire Brigade joined the Scout Joeys and introduced them to some fire safety concepts and gave the Joeys the opportunity to practise what they learned.

The Joeys now know that if they are caught in a fire, and their clothes are in flames, it's important not to run. Instead, you should “stop, drop and rock and roll” until the flames are out. They also learned how to get out of a building by staying below the smoke level and getting to an exit door.

The Joeys practiced the “stop drop and rock and roll” and leaving a burning building by getting down low, crawling and staying low under the ‘smoke layer’ (in this case, a tarp). A Brigade member, dressed in full breathing apparatus clothing, explained what the gear is used for in a building fire. From this experience they learned that if they saw a person in this gear in their home, there was nothing to be afraid of and that they should go towards them for help.

The Joeys also practised different hose techniques by trying to knock the ball off the witch’s hat with the water from the fire hose.

The Brigade Chief encouraged leaders and parents to review the ‘Bushfire Safety Guide 2022’ which includes a 5 minute safety plan. Use this guide to create your own plan. The plan explains that it's too late to be deciding whether to stay or leave when the bushfire is close by. The safety and survival of you and your loves ones depends on how prepared you are and the decisions you make.

South Arm Pharmacy - here to help

Did you know our pharmacists can write Absence Certificates?

Pharmacists tend to be a bit more accessible than GPs, and in many cases, you won't need an appointment. We can only issue a certificate if you are required to be absent from work due to: personal illness/injury, or the need to care for a member of your family/household who is ill/injured. Please talk to Kim or Milli to learn more about the conditions and fees that will apply and remember to phone ahead to arrange a suitable time for the consultation.

Do you need some help with your medicines?

Kim and Milli can help you safely manage your range of medications and deal with a combination of paper and electronic scripts. You may be eligible for a MedsCheck or Home Medicines Review (HMR). Please feel free to discuss with us.

Need a JP?

Pharmacists, as Commissioners for Declarations in Tasmania, can sign or certify many kinds of documents. We can scan/fax/photocopy/print or email for you – a small administrative charge applies to these activities.

Thank you!

We are so grateful to all of you who have come into the pharmacy to talk about the tumultuous introduction of 60-day dispensing. Your support and kind words have been overwhelming. While we will need to introduce some new fees to cover our time and consumables for some activities, we will continue to be available.....

- for a chat and home deliveries
- to provide advice, management, monitoring and opinion
- to provide support, sponsorship and donations to the local school, golf club, church, community garden and fundraising events
- to stock and promote locally made goods and produce

Protect our wildlife, protect your cat.....

Cats are an important part of our community and are much loved pets. However, both feral and roaming domestic cats are known to have significant impacts on our native wildlife and precious ecosystems.

Studies show that Australia wide, feral cats eat around 2 billion reptiles, birds, frogs and mammals each year, and over a billion invertebrates. Roaming pet cats kill up to 546 million additional mammals, birds and reptiles annually.

South Arm is rich in native wildlife, and an important area for migrating shorebirds which visit us every year from as far away as Alaska and Siberia. Unfortunately, South Arm is not currently a declared Cat Management Area.

What you can do.

1. Don't feed stray and feral cats as this may transmit disease to domestic cats and humans – it doesn't reduce their preying on wildlife either.
2. While various control and monitoring programs are established, let SAPRA and your local Council know about your support for monitoring and control programs.
3. Report feral cats on the Feral Scan Pest Mapping App (from Google or Apple) www.feralscan.org.au/feralcatscan

Do you know your local history?

"Our history is our stories and these bring us all together. History isn't just 'old stuff', it's the people and places that were, and still are, the fabric of our community." - Kerry Scambler, SAPRA President.

The Maurice Potter History Room at the South Arm Community Centre was officially opened in October 2019 and, thanks to its namesake and his years of research into the post mid-1800s history of the Peninsula, provides locals and visitors alike with a great factual and visual display of the peninsula's recent history. Since Maurice moved interstate a couple of years ago the History Room custodianship is now in the very capable and knowledgeable hands of Michael Topfer (contact details below).

Do you know that walking the South Arm Convict Trail is a great way to start your journey into our local history? The trail between Opossum Bay and South Arm is well defined with signs along the way telling the stories of those convicts assigned to the holder of the first land grant at Arm End.

Download the South Arm Convict Trail guide or visit the website below. Then put on those walking shoes and enjoy the view!

Want to know more about your local history? Do you have information, stories or photos to contribute?

Visit the Maurice Potter History Room at the South Arm Community Centre and read stories about our peninsula at South Arm Snippets of History southarm.tas.au/history/. Join the South Arm Peninsula History Group on Facebook.

South Arm Market Springs into action

The first South Arm Market since our winter break was a great success and it was so good to see so many happy faces.

Coinciding with Father's Day it was a great excuse to take Dad out for lunch with so many food options available including some decadent donuts and ice-cream for some sweet options alongside Strada Food Truck and The Dim Sim Bloke, among many others.

With the onset of Spring, gardens were on the mind of many of us - decorations from the metal art stall, a visit to the South Arm Garden Club, Catriona's stall and the houseplant stall fulfilled many needs.

Thank you to Jacqui and Andrew for the tremendous work you've done to make the South Arm market a great place to be on the first Sunday of every month.

Next market Sunday 1st October

South Arm Community Bus – Festive Season plans

Is it too soon to plan your festive and holiday activities? Definitely not!

Too soon to enquire about the Community Bus being part of them? Absolutely not!

SOUTH ARM

Community Bus

Helping keep social connections is part of our Bus ethos. We live in paradise but sometimes the distance can make travelling further afield a little trickier. If you're planning group travel to/from the Peninsula, the Community Bus can help keep your group together for longer, enjoying the company and the ride and not the stress of the drive! Talk to Steve about what's possible this festive season.

Another aspect to our Bus activities is the social support – helping those who are unable or uncomfortable to drive get out and about. Our fortnightly shopping trips ($8 per person) can help or if you have a particular need, talk to Steve.
